

Bill Callaway Bio

“To imagine a part of a city you need to understand the small pieces that make up a whole. In order to pick a stone texture or color you need to understand the bigger context. Each scale informs the other.” –Bill Callaway

OVERVIEW:

Bill Callaway has 40 years of experience in the profession of landscape architecture (38 of those with SWA Group). He grew up in the agricultural landscape of California’s Central Valley and developed a deep appreciation for the land. He joined SWA in 1967 as a draftsman, eventually becoming managing principal of the Sausalito office, and ultimately president, and then CEO of the company. Over the years, he has worked on many award-winning projects at a wide range of scales—from thousands of square feet to thousands of acres—both nationally and internationally. Breaking the typical CEO mold, he remains an active, hands-on designer, devoting about two-thirds of his time to working on projects, considering himself first and foremost a design principal. Just as importantly he has been mentor and friend to many eminently successful designers, and has helped to mold SWA into a design leader among larger landscape architecture and planning firms. His personal leadership, charisma, and professional passion have inspired many designers to retain an idealistic view of the profession and the world. He has been dedicated to creating a company environment and culture that is humanistic, egalitarian, participatory and supportive of professionals, with attention to fairness, openness and widespread participation in company earnings and professional opportunities. Bill has excelled as both a designer and a company leader.

EDUCATION:

Master of Landscape Architecture from Harvard University Graduate School of Design, 1971; Bachelor of Science in Landscape Architecture from the University of California, Berkeley, 1966

DESIGN PHILOSOPHY:

“Listen to the land. Don't have a shtick—all design problems are unique and deserve unique solutions. All people deserve thoughtful design.”

INSPIRED BY: Peter Walker, Calvin Platt, Dan Kiley, Hemingway describing landscapes, Matisse abstracting landscapes, agricultural landscapes (rows, grids, canals, ditches, siphons, seasonal changes), Paris, Aix-en-Provence, Barcelona, Hong Kong, Istanbul.

AFFILIATIONS: Fellow, American Society of Landscape Architects and member of the Urban Land Institute

MAJOR ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND OUTSTANDING PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES:

Bill became president of SWA in 1988 and CEO in 1996. He confirmed and invigorated the company's commitment to excellence in design by steering organizational structure, policies, meetings, communications and the selection of company leadership away from business and full-steam ahead toward professional commitment and contribution. As quoted in World Architecture, Bill once said "SWA Group is organized around creativity rather than business. We define creativity as innovative planning and design, but also as the practical addition of value to a project." And under his leadership and nurturing, the firm has continued to embrace this ethos. Bill has been intent on providing a springboard for professionals in the firm to pursue their own visions and practices—this has resulted in a dynamic expansion of work throughout the country and world, and has resulted in increasingly significant contributions in the critical arenas of natural systems and sustainability. Because of his egalitarian, collegial philosophy and approach, Bill has been able to keep some of the most talented landscape architects in the country committed to the group practice of SWA for many years. In many respects, Bill has been the "glue" of the company.

Bill's forty years of professional work has been extraordinary in terms of both quality and scope. He has worked on: large city-scale projects (Filinvest Corporate City in Manila, Beijing Finance Center, and Tuen Mun New Town in Hong Kong); significant civic projects (Arizona Center, McCormick Place, Village of Merrick Park in Coral Gables, Huntington Memorial Hospital, and Concord Performing Arts Center); award-winning parks and plazas (Centennial Park, Refugio Valley Park in Hercules, California, Shoreline Regional Park in Mountain View, California, PPG Plaza in Pittsburgh, 101 California Street and One Bush Street, both in San Francisco, and Barney Allis Plaza in Kansas City,); corporate campuses (Electronic Arts, Fireman's Fund, IBM Almaden, Hewlett Packard, Syntex Laboratories, Corporate Woods near Kansas City, and Weyerhaeuser Headquarters); mixed-use and residential communities (redevelopment of the Mare Island Naval Shipyard and Magee Ranch in Danville, California); and acclaimed hospitality projects (Hyatt Regency Scottsdale and Desert Ridge).
