Meeting Notes

1. Introductions

2. Continuing Business

   a. Status of the Secretary of the Interior's Historic Preservation Professional Qualification Standards
      The NPS Associate Director of Cultural Resources, Partnerships, and Science has transferred the administration of this effort up to the Department of the Interior. The Department is staffing it to get everyone up to speed and then will be working on polishing the draft to circulate for comment. The link below will be used to post any status changes, announcement of opportunities for comment, etc.: https://www.doi.gov/pam/asset-management/historic-preservation/pqs

   b. Promoting the 2022 HALS Challenge: Olmsted Landscapes
      i. Possible Olmsted webinar to promote this year’s theme. Discussed potential speakers from various parts of the country that could address parks, city planning, residential sites, and/or the work of the Olmsted Firm.
      ii. Monthly articles for The Field leading up to the July 31 deadline:
         1. January: The 2022 HALS Challenge: Olmsted Landscapes
         2. February: Mountain View Cemetery HALS CA-39, Oakland, California, by Chris Pattillo
         3. March-July: T.B.D., ideas were discussed.

   c. 2023 HALS Challenge Theme: Working Landscapes (e.g. agricultural, industrial, water control, …)
      Helen mentioned the need to have an annual student award for 2023 & beyond continuing with the NAOP-sponsored student certificate for the 2022 Challenge – to encourage student participation.

   d. Planning for the first annual virtual HALS Liaison workshop.
i. Professional Development Hour(s)? ASLA National offers Landscape Architecture Continuing Education System (LA CES)-approved PDH – most state chapters use it, e.g. Free PDH of the Month Webinar;

ii. Ann Mullins recommended sharing a HALS slide show that explains the significance of HALS – importance of documentation;

iii. Chris Pattillo recommends stressing that HALS has tremendous flexibility. Beauty of HALS is that it is open-ended. Forgiving for amateurs / first-timers.

iv. HALS 101 – Newly updated brochure- walk through especially inset box on page 1.

v. Coordinate Demonstration: Using Google Earth or Google Maps for Lat Long in Decimal Degrees format. Online Lat Long Converters. What does WGS84 mean, …

vii. HALS Short Format History Template – walk folks through the sections.

viii. Share a great Short Format History example from the collection.

ix. Meeting or Webinar - Zoom virtual event. Everyone together.

x. HALS – Ohio example of having HALS webpages being part of state ASLA Chapter’s website and how they crowsource a list of historic landscapes across Ohio’s 88 counties.

xi. Copyright issues.

xii. Sources vs. footnotes.

xiii. Chicago Manual of Style.

e. Promoting 2022 HALS Challenge: Historic Black Landscapes reports and sites.

3. Other Business / Open Discussion

a. David Driapsa shared that Alissa Slade Lotane, Director of Florida Division of Historic Resources, had met with his ASLA HALS Committee annually for a number of years before the pandemic as they tried to integrate landscapes into state preservation programs. David came across this paragraph from PRESERVING FLORIDA'S HERITAGE, Florida’s Comprehensive Historic Preservation Plan, Florida Department of State | Division of Historical Resources, 2017-2021 which attests to her interest in historic landscapes:

“Traditionally, historic landscapes are underrepresented in the FMSF and in Florida’s contributions to the National Register. Primarily, those that are listed are farms or ranches. Agricultural farmland, cattle pastureland, and horse farms and groves, particularly in Central and South Florida, continue to be threatened. Fortunately, landscapes have received increasing attention in recent years. Recognizing a need for proper identification and protection of these resources, the Historic American Landscapes Survey (HALS) was established by the American Society of Landscape Architects (ASLA), the National Park Service, and the Library of Congress in 2000. In Florida, HALS efforts identified 20 historic landscapes. Some of these resources, such as Cummer Gardens in Jacksonville and Florida Caverns State Park in Marianna are listed in the National Register, but many are not. By their nature, historic landscapes are vulnerable to development pressures and often face a lack of local awareness. As part of an ongoing and growing effort to recognize Florida’s historic landscapes, the Division and our preservation partners should engage with the ASLA, HALS, and the NPS to prioritize historic landscape listings in the National Register and raise awareness of the importance of historic landscapes. In addition, a more holistic approach should be utilized in identifying and evaluating resources through formal and informal survey to ensure that the landscape component is addressed.”

This is a great example to share in a HALS Liaison Workshop.
b. 2022 ASLA Conference on Landscape Architecture: Ali Hay will look at San Francisco Convention Center space when it becomes available for possible HALS breakout space after the 2022 HALS Challenge announcements.

c. The idea of asking the 2021 HALS Challenge entrants to produce 5-minute videos of their sites and the HALS documentation process was further discussed – format, where to host, etc. This endeavor is not feasible at this time. HALS does not have the infrastructure to assure that these videos would be 508 compliant at this time.

d. Chris Pattillo shared that she would be stepping down as the HALS Liaison for the Northern California ASLA Chapter and as a member of the HALS Subcommittee to focus on her many other interests. She is one of the three founders of the Northern California Chapter of HALS, and she founded the very first HALS Challenge with a fun Theme Park theme. We are now in our 13th annual HALS Challenge competition!

Since stepping down, Chris has shared:
“I am very pleased to tell you that Doug Nelson has agreed to take over as the new HALS liaison for our Northern California Chapter. Doug has been a member of our chapter since the beginning and as you know has made regular submissions for the challenge. He is perfect for the position."

“I sent out a message via our HALS Google Group and on our Facebook site about this year's HALS Challenge and am excited to tell you that it has provoked more responses than anything else I've sent out in the past several years. You better prepare for an onslaught of submissions.”

Thank you, Chris, for many years of creative, inspirational, and administrative leadership in HALS!!!

e. The NPS State, Tribal, Local, Plans & Grants Division (STLPG) has specifically asked that I share the following grant information (below). These grants could potentially be used by partners to sponsor HABS/HAER/HALS documentation projects, so please spread the word among your connections.
